She—In some parts of Australia when a man marries each of the bride's relatives strikes him with a stick by way of welcome into the family

He—Yes, and in many parts of America when a man marries each of the bride's relatives strikes him with a loan by way of welcoming him into the family.—New York Times.

Traveling Experiences.

Mother—Sir, I hope my little boy doesn't worry you by his fretting and crying. He isn't well, or he wouldn't act so.

Mr. Man—Oh, no. All children act that way. I'm used to it—in fact, I haven't seen a well child for 20 years.—Chicago Herald.

A man should not be blamed for the mistakes he makes. He should be credited as he profits by them.—Atchison Globe.

A Black Flower.

Fame and fortune await the ingenious horticulturist who can succeed in producing a flower that is entirely black, a problem that has hitherto defied the efforts that have been made in that direction for more than three centuries past, for, notwithstanding the sensational novel of Alexandre Dumas entitled "The Black Tulip," there is no such thing as a really black flower in existence, although almost every color and shade of the rainbow is present in flowers and blossoms.

Stop the Blight

It is a sad thing to see fine fruit trees spoiled by the blight. You can always tell them from the rest. They never do well afterwards but stay small and sickly.

It is worse to see a blight strike children. Good health is the natural right of children. But some of them don't get their rights. While the rest grow big and strong one stays small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion can stop that blight. There is no reason why such a child should stay small. Scott's Emulsion is a medicine with lots of strength in it—the kind of strength that makes things grow.

Scott's Emulsion makes children grow, makes them eat, makes them sleep, makes them play. Give the weak child a chance. Scott's Emulsion will make it catch up with the rest.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

Simple and Effective, but Costly.

"When I came to town, I noticed a little, round swelling on my wrist," said a visitor from the country. "It bothered me, and one day when I saw a sign, 'Dr. John Doe,' I thought I'd go in and have it looked at. Well, I was shown into a fine room, and in a minute a pleasant looking man came in.

"'Dr. Doe?' I says and held up my wrist.

"'Ah, a weeping sinew,' says he, as if he'd been waiting years for a chance to study a case like mine.

"I didn't say anything, but kept my wrist out with the hand hanging limp while he took down a book from the shelf. I expected him to turn over the pages and look up my trouble under S or W and then prescribe something. Instead he gave me a crack on the wrist like a thousand of brick! It was right on the swelling and hurt like a cannon ball. I jumped high in the air and yelled.

"'Your weeping sinew's gone,' says the doctor quietly. 'Three dollars.'

"I was too much surprised to say a word, and I paid it. But no wonder your city doctors get rich. Three dollars! Any blacksmith would have done that job for the fun of doing it."—New York Post.

Strange Hiding Places.

There are standing at the present day Elizabethan houses known to contain hidden chambers. The very positions of these chambers can be shown, yet their secrets have remained inviolate for centuries, the spring that should serve as the open sesame being undiscoverable. Some day the accidental touch of a girl's finger may set a column of stone rotating or a panel sliding or a door in a picture frame retreating on invisible hinges, and the secret—if any remain—will be revealed.

The place of mystery in these ancient granges that served as shelter to a friend in distress might equally prove the death of an enemy of the house. The priest's hole behind a fireplace was easily converted into an oven. There were staircases which the foot of a friend might press in perfect security. Another, not instructed how to tread, sets his foot apparently on the same place, the stair yawns open, and at the end of the pit is the water. Here is much romance.—London Chronicle.

Pipe Smoking.

There are many pipe smokers who do not know how to get the best there is out of their indulgence. The great point in pipe smoking is to smoke slowly. Nervous smokers smoke too rapidly and burn their tongues with hot smoke, besides failing entirely to get the fullest and best flavor out of the tobacco. It is all a matter of habit, but slow smoking is a habit which it is hard for some people to acquire. In some cases pipe smokers have tried for years to check their smoking speed without success. They began too late, and the habit of rapid smoking is shaken off with difficulty when it is once acquired.

Rapid smoking is as bad as rapid eating—or worse. It is also "bad form." Whether it is cigar, pipe or cigarette, the smoking should be deliberate in order to get the fullest enjoyment. It is especially so with a pipe.—New York Press.

Hypnotic Influence.

Buyer—Look here, you! You said this horse was sound and kind and free from tricks. The first day I drove him he fell down a dozen times, and he's as bad today.

Dealer—Um—you've been wondering if I cheated you, maybe?

"Yes, I have."

"And the first time you drove the hoss you wondered if he hadn't some tricks, didn't you?"

"Of course."

"And you kept saying to yourself, 'I wonder if that there hoss will tumble down,' eh?"

"Probably."

"And you had your mind on it a good deal, most like?"

"That's true."

"That's wot's the matter. You've hypnotized him. See?"

On a Russian Railway Train.

Toilet arrangements such as satisfy the Russian are at his disposal in first and second class trains, but the third class passengers have no such luxuries. When the train halts for the breakfast interval, those who travel third class may be seen performing their ablutions at the platform tap. They fill a can like a gardener's watering pot, suck through the spout a mouthful of the water, spit it into the hollowed palms and then rub their faces. It is a disgusting process, performed without soap or towel, and, though it may be amusing to the onlooker, it is not very cleansing to the operator. Yet this is the method of ablution adopted by the poorer Russian on his travels.—Chambers' Journal.

The Editor Won.

A London paper described a children's excursion as a "long, white scream of joy," and was called to account by a correspondent, who said that a scream could be long, but not white, whereupon the editor justified himself by urging that "a hue is often associated with a cry."

Need Not Feel Lonesome.

Rubberton—May I inquire what your business is, stranger?

Stranger (haughtily)—Sir, I'm a gentleman.

Rubberton—Well, I reckon that's a good business, stranger; but you're not the only man that's failed at it.—Chicago News.

A Follower.

Caller—The minister's son is following in the footsteps of that spendthrift young Jinks.

Miss Prim—Isn't that scandalous?

Caller—Hardly as bad as that. You see, he's a tailor and is just trying to collect his bill.—Chelsea Gazette.

He Was No Hog.

"Well," said the doctor, peeping into the room where Wellington Frash, the great poker expert, was waiting for the returns, "I suppose you will regard this as a mere formality, but I must congratulate you nevertheless on the fact that you have a fine boy across the hall."

"Hi!" said Mr. Frash. "That's good! Come in and take something."

"Excuse me for a moment," the doctor replied. Presently he returned, put his head into Mr. Frash's den and said:

"Let me congratulate you again. You have two fine boys across the hall."

Mr. Frash opened his mouth as if to respond, but before he could do so the doctor was gone again. Presently he bounded in the new father's presence, saying: "By George, you have three fine boys across the hall!"

He was starting back when Mr. Frash hurried forward, grasped him by the shoulder and in excited tones cried:

"Say, doc, hold on. Three of a kind are good enough for me. I stand pat."—Chicago Herald.

The Earthquake.

To the average resident of the temperate zones an earthquake is a rare and terrible event, creating more consternation than any other visitation of nature. In the tropics, however, particularly in Central America, it is wonderful how easily the residents become accustomed to these shocks, which do not come, however, wholly without warning.

You are sitting on a piazza on a hot afternoon chatting with your friends when suddenly the sky seems to grow hazy and the crows stop cawing. There is a general rush, and, though you may not know what is the matter, you cannot help feeling uneasy.

The old natives say, "We're going to have a little shake," and then the house begins to rock, the tumblers fall off the table, you feel deathly sick at the stomach, and the thing is all over. The sky clears, the crows begin their noisy screams, and things are soon put right again.

The Chances In Policy.

The retired "poke" shopkeeper was explaining to his interested hearers some of the mysteries of his former business.

"The chances of winning at the policy game," he said, "are about like this: You take a bushel basket and fill it with small white beans. Then you put one small black bean into the basket and shake the lot up. After that go to some 'skyscraper' building, say one about 29 stories high, and place a penny on the sidewalk in front of it. This done, shoulder your bushel of beans and take the elevator to the roof of the building. Then lean over the edge of the roof and, aiming at the cent on the sidewalk below, dump out the beans in the basket all together. Then hurry down on the elevator and rush out to the sidewalk. If you find that the black bean has fallen upon the penny, you win."—New York Times.

The Silliest Birds.

Dodo is the Portuguese name for simpleton, and it is given to the silliest bird that ever lived. Three hundred years ago, when the Portuguese first visited the island of Mauritius, they found a large number of these birds. They were about the size of a large swan, blackish gray in color and having only a bunch of feathers in place of a tail and little, useless wings. More stupid and foolish birds could not be imagined. They ran about making a silly, hissing noise like a goose, and the sailors easily knocked them over with their paddles. They couldn't fly, they couldn't swim, they couldn't run at any great speed, and, as for fighting, they were the greatest cowards in the world. They were much too stupid to build a nest, and so they dropped an egg and went off to let it hatch as best it could.

A Patti Satire.

During one of Adelina Patti's last tours in the United States, the following preliminary notice was published by a western editor:

Mme. Patti Nicolini, the eminent vocalist and farewellist, will come to us for positively the last time next year. All those who expect to die before the year after next will do well to hear the human nightingale on this trip, for Patti never says goodby twice in the same year, and to die without hearing her strike her high two thousand dollar note is to seek the hereafter in woeful ignorance of the heights to which a woman with good lungs, a castle in Wales and who only uses one kind of soap can soar when she tries."

Most Satisfying.

They were speaking of the billionaire's insufferable pretensions.

"Upon what meat does this our Cæsar feed that he has grown so great?" exclaimed Mordaunt bitterly.

"Mint's meat, possibly!" observed Meltravers, trying to be cheaply witty while yet preserving the easy grace of a man of the world.—Detroit Free Press.

Tactful.

Mrs. Nosepoke—John, don't you think it's about time for us to call on our new neighbors?

Husband—Why, they only moved in this morning.

Mrs. Nosepoke—Oh, I know, but all their stuff will be downstairs and I can see it better.—Ohio State Journal.

Requiescat In Pace.

"He thought the gun wasn't loaded."

"But it really was loaded?"

"After he found it out it wasn't."—Philadelphia Press.

The first book printed in Minnesota was a Bible. It was printed in 1836, about 13 years before the first issue of a newspaper in St. Paul.

A Chinese Stratagem.

Rajah Suran, who was one of the earliest rulers of India, overran the entire east with the exception of China, killed innumerable sultans with his own hand and married all their daughters. It is said that when the Chinese heard of his triumphant progress and learned that he had reached their frontier they became much alarmed. The emperor called a council of his generals and mandarins, and upon the advice of a crafty old mandarin the following strategem was carried out:

A large ship was loaded with rusty nails, trees were planted on the deck, the vessel was manned by a numerous crew of old men and dispatched to the rajah's capital. When it arrived—the most wonderful part of the story is that it did arrive—the rajah sent an officer to ask how long it had taken the vessel to make the trip from China. The Chinamen answered that they had all been young men when they set sail and that on the voyage they had planted the seeds from which the great trees had grown. In corroboration of their story they pointed to the rusty nails which, they said, had been stout iron bars as thick as a man's arm when they started. "You can see," they concluded, "that China must be a very long distance away."

The rajah was so much impressed by these plausible arguments that he concluded he would not live long enough to reach China and abandoned his projected invasion.

Getting Personal.

The favorite Scottish method of dealing with sleepers in church was publicly to denounce the delinquents. The Christian Leader tells this story:

When the Rev. Walter Dunlap, minister of a United Presbyterian church in Dumfries, saw a member of his flock nodding while he was preaching, he stopped suddenly and said:

"I doot some o' ye hae taen ower mony whey porridge the day. Sit up, or I'll name ye oot!"

Another Caledonian preacher, on like provocation, cried out, "Hold up yer heads, my friends, and mind that neither saints nor sinners are sleeping in the next world."

Then, finding that this general exhortation was insufficient to deter a certain well known member of the church from getting his night's rest forward, the reverend gentleman turned toward the offender and said:

"James Stewart, this is the second time I have stopped to waken ye. If I need to stop a third time, I'll expose ye by name to the whole congregation."

Different From the Rest.

They are talking about how they happened to marry.

"I married my wife," said one after the others had all had their say, "because she was so different from any woman I had ever met."

"How was that?" chorused the others.

"She was the only woman I ever met who would have me."

A Hard Character.

He—I went to the palmist's last week to have my character read.

She—Yes? What did he say?

He—He didn't say anything. He looked at my hand, coughed a bit and then gave me my money back.—New York Times.

The Penmanship of Authors.

Is there really any connection between the cast of a writer's mind and his handwriting? asks The Pall Mall Gazette. Thackeray was one of the neatest of writers and boasted that if other trades failed he could get his living by writing the Lord's Prayer on a shilling. Keats wrote like a clerk, and Gray, Tom Moore, Leigh Hunt and Sir Walter Scott all used running hands, which were legible without any marked characteristics. The same may be said of the writings of Anthony Trollope and Professor Tyndall, none, perhaps, of these writers being much given to subtlety of expression.

Carlyle, on the other hand, is said to have produced the most untidy and awful scribble that ever puzzled a compositor, and Victor Hugo, Browning and Tennyson were nearly as bad. Yet, although this looks as if there might be some sort of a rule in such matters, we find Napoleon, who certainly never failed in directness of expression, writing a hand that he could not read himself, and Macready, the actor, whose order for the theater was once taken for a prescription for a cough mixture.

One thing seems pretty certain—that the mere size of the letters has little to do with character.

Raleigh's Favorite Tipple.

Sir Walter Raleigh seems to have had a pretty taste in stimulants, to judge by his "cordial water," the recipe for which is copied from a cookbook nearly 300 years old. This is how Sir Walter concocted his favorite drink:

"Take a gallon of strawberries and put them into a pint of aqua vitæ (brandy). Let them stand so four or five days. Strain them gently out and sweeten the water as you please with fine sugar or else with perfume."

Queen Elizabeth was exceedingly fond of perfumes, and, according to this old book, her favorite scent was made in this manner: "Take eight spoonfuls of compound water, the weight of twopence in fine powdered sugar and boil it on hot embers or coals softly. Add half an ounce of sweet marjoram, dry it in the sun, the weight of twopence of powdered benjamin (benzoin?). This perfume is very good and sweet for the time."

Wise Too Late.

Fond Mother—Tommy, you don't seem very well.

Tommy—No, maw, I ain't. I wisht I had let sister eat that third piece uv ple.—Ohio State Journal.

A Heartfelt Loss.

Casey—So poor Cassidy is dead? Sure, everybody will miss him!

Flannigan—They will! He was the only mon in the war-rd thot everybody could lick!—Puck.

Arundel Castle.

The most singlar circumstance about Arundel castle is that its owner, by mere right of ownership, is Earl of Arundel in the peerage of England. It is believed that there is no similar example of a peerage held on such conditions. Apparently there would be no legal obstacle, were the house of Howard to fall upon evil days and the castle be sold to some millionaire, to prevent the millionaire taking his seat in the house of lords as Earl of Arundel.

Dickens and His Titles.

Charles Dickens had great difficulty in choosing titles for his various publications, says The Golden Penny. The following is a list of no fewer than 14 suggestions given by the author to his adviser, Foster, for the title of one book, out of which, need hardly be added, No. 6 was chosen:

1. According to Crocker.
2. Prove It.
3. Stubborn Things.
4. Mr. Grandgrind's Facts.
5. The Grindstone.
6. Hard Times.
7. Two and Two Are Four.
8. Something Tangible.
9. Our Hard Headed Friend.
10. Rust and Dust.
11. Simple Arithmetic.
12. A Matter of Calculation.
13. A Mere Matter of Figures.
14. The Grandgrind Philosophy.

Sure of a Visit.

As a rule, said a prison warden, a man is in a despondent mood during his first week's imprisonment. There are exceptions, however, as this incident will show.

One Saturday about dinner time I was suddenly accosted by one of the new arrivals who had served the first week of his sentence.

"I say," he remarked, "has a lady been asking for me at the gate?"

I told him that if he had been wanted the governor would have sent for him.

"Oh, very well. Keep cool," he said. "This is the first time for ten years I've put in a full week's work, and the old woman is sure to be at the gate for my wages."

And with a grin the cheerful one passed on.—London Answers.

The Lemon.

The lemon contains various acids, citric acid among them, with citrate of potash, and these acids oxidize in the blood into carbonates of potash and carbonic acid. As scurvy is believed to be due to a lack of potash salts in the blood, we see how substances like lemons, potatoes and fresh vegetables generally act as preventives of the ailment. Also in rheumatism, in which it is desirable to maintain the alkaline character of the blood, lemons are of service. Beyond this I do not think anybody can vaunt the properties of the fruit. A healthy person has no more need of lemons than of, say, tea, for his ordinary food will supply him with all that is necessary for the maintenance of a sound body. People who talk about lemons as "good for the liver," and so forth, found their belief rather on faith than on knowledge.—London Chronicle.

Shorts In a Corner.

"Yes," said young Mr. Bashful to his best girl, "the stock market has been through considerable excitement of late."

"Oh, yes," the girl responded, eager to take part in conversation on a topic which interested her Adolphus. "I have read a lot about it in the paper—all about those dreadful bulls and bears and things."

"Yes," Adolphus went on; "they got the shorts in a corner and effectually squeezed them."

"Did they?"

"Yes."

"I think," the demure maid added, after a few minutes' meditation, "that if ever I become a speculator I shall be a short."

A few minutes later she found it was not necessary to speculate in stock in order to be treated as a "short."—Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

How to Quit Chewing Tobacco.

The "substitute cure" is worthy of the attention of sufferers. We have a citizen of Mobile who has tried it. He was an inveterate chewer of tobacco. He stopped chewing and took to chewing a pine stick. He always has this bit of wood between his teeth, in waking hours at least. He has not tasted tobacco in many years.—Mobile Register.

Unavoidable.

"Why do you wander aimlessly from place to place?" inquired the philanthropist.

"Well," answered Meandering Mike, "eight hours' sleep a day is enough for anybody. And we's gotter do sometin wit' de other 16 hours, ain't we?"—Washington Star.

Explained.

Customer—Waiter, it is nearly half an hour since I ordered that turtle soup.

Waiter—Sorry, sir, but you know how slow turtles are, sir.

Love is unequally yoked with sickness. Labor is lightened by love, but love cannot lighten pain or relieve it. Many a man looks on at his wife's suffering willing to do anything to aid her and able to do nothing.

Sometimes, however, the husband's attention is directed to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and its remarkable cures of womanly diseases. He may not have much hope of a cure, but he is led to try the medicine, with the result that in almost every case there is a perfect and permanent cure.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures irregularity. It dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

As a tonic for women who are nervous, sleepless, worn-out and run-down "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled.

"In answer to your letter I will say, my wife commenced to complain twenty years ago," writes Lewis A. Miller, ex-Chief-of-Police, of 33 Prospect St., Weissport, Pa. "We have tried the skill of twelve different doctors. She took gallons of medicine during the time she was ill, until I wrote to you and you told us what to do. She has taken eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and six of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She can do her own work now and can walk around again and is quite smart."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Ed Gartlin is at Sacramento consulting with physicians regarding the trouble of his right optic. He fears that there is a cancerous growth on the lid.

The Buena Vista Copper Mining and Reduction Company recently placed 5000 shares in Ione. This company has one of the most promising properties in the country, and great results are anticipated.

Two years ago Miss Florence French had a fall and run a splinter into her knee. At the time she removed it all, as she supposed. Some time ago the spot began troubling her, and of late had become exceedingly painful. On Tuesday Miss French consulted Dr. Tyrrell, an operation was performed, and a splinter an inch in length was removed.

G. F. Fratas, a wood hauler, was bitten by a tarantula Thursday, and was badly frightened by it. He had thrown a stick of wood from the wagon into Frank Frates' yard, when he felt a stinging sensation on the right forefinger. He saw that it was a deadly tarantula, and snapping it off, went to a drug store and had a remedy applied. Soon his arm became paining, and his hand to swell, which caused him to make haste to Dr. Tyrrell, who applied the necessary remedies. No serious results are anticipated.

The Children's Friend.

You'll have a cold this winter. Maybe you have one now. Your children will suffer too. For coughs, croup, bronchitis, grip and other winter complaints One Minute Cough Cure never fails. Acts promptly. It is very pleasant to the taste and perfectly harmless. C. B. George, Winchester, Ky., writes "Our little girl was attacked with croup late one night and was so hoarse she could hardly speak. We gave her a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure. It relieved her immediately and she went to sleep. When she awoke next morning she had no signs of hoarseness or croup." Kerr's Pharmacy, Jackson.

Killed in the Mine.

An accident occurred at the Lightner mine at Angels last Friday afternoon that caused the death of one miner and seriously injured another. A skip loaded with two tons of rock was taken to the top of the hoist and held before unloading. The brakes refused to hold and the loaded skip started back down the shaft. The engineer could not stop it and it went to the bottom of the 700-foot shaft and struck Martin Zglove and John Martincich, who were at work there. Zglove was instantly killed, and Martincich had a leg broken and was otherwise seriously injured. The falling skip tore out three sets of the lower timbers.—Calaveras Citizen.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Death Gulch.

A ravine in the northeast corner of Yellowstone National park, in Wyoming, is known by those living near by as Death gulch. Grewsome as is the name, it is exceedingly appropriate. It is a V shaped trench cut in the mountainside and begins about 250 feet above Cache creek. Apparently it forms a natural shelter for the beasts of the forest, as food, water and shelter are there, but entrance to the gulch means death to any animal, for the poisonous vapors that rise out of the ravine are more deadly than the bullets of the huntsmen.

For ages this death trap in the Rocky mountains has probably been luring the inhabitants of the forest to their doom. With the rains of spring the bones of the dead of the preceding year are carried down to the creek and the gulch cleared for the death harvest of the summer and winter.

The geologists say that the lavas which fill the ancient basin of the park at this place rest upon the flanks of mountains formed of fragmentary volcanic ejects. Gaseous emanations are given out in great volume. These come, the scientists say, from deposits of altered and crystalline travertine mixed with pools in the creek. Above these deposits the creek cuts into a bank of sulphur. In the bottom of the gully is a small stream sour with sulphuric acid.

No wonder the poor animals seeking shelter in the gulch meet death there.

FRIDAY ....NOVEMBER 8, 1901

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We look to the friends of the Ledger to keep us posted concerning events of public interest happening in any part of the county. Our regular correspondents will be furnished with writing material and stamps for this purpose. Births, deaths, marriages, accidents, amusements, mining and other industrial progress, social topics, new buildings, persons leaving or coming into the county, are always acceptable. Give details of important items, no matter in how rough a shape. Avoid personal remarks that might give offense. Visitors between towns in the county need not be mentioned, but visits from or to places beyond the county may be recorded.

WHY THE SUPERVISOR.

At a meeting of the board of trade of Ione last week the subject of dumping rubbish in the bed of Sutter creek within the limits of that town was discussed. The upshot of the discussion was that it was decided to call the attention of supervisor Amick to the evil, with the request that he see that the county ordinance bearing on that question be enforced. Just what power supervisor Amick has in the premises is not very clear. The fact is he has no more to do with the enforcement of local laws than any other citizen. The incident serves to show what extravagant ideas are sometimes indulged in by good meaning and intelligent people as to the duties and responsibilities of officials. Because Mr. Amick is now a member of the legislative body that years ago—long before he became a member thereof—passed an ordinance prohibiting the dumping of rubbish in creek beds, therefore it is assumed that it is peculiarly his business to see that the law is enforced. It would be just as reasonable to look to an assemblyman to see that every law upon the statute books of the state is enforced. The fact is Mr. Amick is a part of the law making power of the county. When it comes to seeing that the laws are obeyed, he is nothing more than an ordinary citizen. The executive officer is the proper party to investigate any violation of the ordinance. The ordinance referred to by the board of trade was passed in May, 1899, and is numbered 80 in the ordinance book. It purports to amend ordinance No. 24, which was passed in 1887, but neither the original nor the amendatory ordinance provides a penalty for the violation of its provisions. It is made a misdemeanor to do certain things, but there is no punishment attached to the commission of these unlawful acts. True, this fatal omission is sought to be cured by a subsequent separate ordinance. But even in this doctored shape, we do not believe the district attorney, or any other reputable lawyer, would care to risk an appeal to the higher courts. We have a lot of sanitary regulations that are practically inoperative. They simply cumber the ordinance book. Is it not in order to draw the blue pencil through the lot, and build anew, in a manner that will afford at least some reasonable ground for hope that the laws will pass the ordeal of appeal.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The result of the elections in San Francisco and Sacramento was a genuine surprise to the knowing ones. Few believed that Schmitz had any chance whatever in the contest for the mayoralty of San Francisco. The general opinion was that he would be last in the race. Not one of the daily papers was supporting him. And yet he comes out a winner by over four thousand majority over Wells, the republican candidate, who polled the next highest vote. Tobin, the democratic nominee, who was pushed with all the influence of two republican dailies, the Chronicle and Call, was literally buried under the avalanche of unfriendly votes. Schmitz was the candidate of the newly organized Union Labor party. But we do not attribute his success to that element, as much as to the defection of the out-and-out democrats who were suspicious of the support of the republican journals to the candidate of their party, and who naturally interpreted it that Tobin if elected was expected to do something for them in return for their support. The newly elected mayor has heretofore been a republican. He is averse to any radical changes as the outcome of his triumph on the labor ticket. This success may encourage the labor movement to continue along political lines, and place a state ticket in the field at the next election. It is more than probable, however, that the party as a political factor will have run its race ere the time for the placing of candidates in nomination comes round. A political party calling for a cleavage between employes and employers in politics cannot hope to survive the test of more than one campaign.

In Sacramento Mayor Clark, independent, was re-elected over Wm. Land, regular republican nominee, by over 1000 majority. This was undoubtedly a rebuke to machine politics—the uprising of the masses against the bosses. Both daily papers were backing the losing candidates.

In New York city, the Tammany regime has been completely overthrown by the election of Seth Low, the republican candidate. The defeat is so overwhelming that Croker, the Tammany boss, talks of permanently retiring from politics.

Fourteen cases in the justices court is the record of township one for the past month. It is some consolation to find that the tariff on common misdemeanors has been reduced from 25 to 10 days' board. It is still a notable feature that not a single case of trial by jury is reported. There are two jury trials pending in said court, and have been pending for weeks. The prevailing practice is to plead guilty and take the medicine. It would be a diversion for the accused in these simple cases to demand a jury trial. We are inclined to think the interests of the county, the liberties of the accused, and the requirements of justice would be as fully met by such a course as under the present "plea of guilty" plan. Is some one trying to make a record of the number he can land in prison? Certainly, the highest record has been made the past month in the sum total of the board bill of prisoners—two hundred and four dollars is the flood tide so far. For the keep of between 50 and 60 patients in the county hospital last month, the bills for provisions and meat amounted to between $250 and $260. Never in the history of the county has there been such a rush of business in "running them in" as at present, The storm center of this activity seems to be the county seat. The rest of the county is on its usual good behavior.

Quite a discussion arose at the meeting of the board of supervisors last Monday over the so-called emergency bridge at Carbondale. The board was anxious to have it appear that they were backed in their action in that matter by the opinion of the district attorney, and had the minutes of the October meeting amended seemingly in that direction. The minutes as amended, however, leave the subject just where it stood before, and does not change the responsibility in the slightest degree. The district attorney is called upon to give his opinion on propositions of law. There is no dispute as to the legality of building a bridge in a case of actual emergency without calling for bids. But it is left for the sound discretion of the members of the board to decide whether any particular case comes within the emergency provision. The district attorney is not required to tender advice outside of law points. In all matters requiring the exercise of sound discretions, county officers are supposed to be equally as well equipped for discharging their official duties as the district attorney.

EASTERN ELECTIONS.

The state elections East last Tuesday are in favor of the republicans. Ohio has piled up a majority of 60,-000; Iowa 90,000, and Pennsylvania about 50,000 for the republican ticket. Nebraska remains squarely in the republican fold, and the returns indicate the same for Colorado. Utah is strongly republican. The only driblets of consolation for the democrats are that Kentucky and Maryland return to their old-time political allegiance.

OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

Our Correspondents Tell Us the News.

Letters From Amador City, Defender, Plymouth and Ione.—Death of Silas West.

Amador City, Nov. 5.—Miss Mitchell of San Jose, is the guest of Mrs. N. Gray.

Mrs. G. Steffan and family have returned from San Francisco, where they have been for some time.

Mrs. Whitehead, Mrs. Berryman, and Edyth visited Sutter Creek Thursday.

Miss Collis, head finisher at Bushnell's studio, Oakland, returned Monday, after a few weeks visit with friends here.

Miss Jessie Mitchell, one of Amador's most popular young ladies, has accepted a position as saleslady in the Keystone Supply store. Her many friends are delighted to see her there.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new hall, and if the weather continues favorable it will soon be ready for occupancy.

Grandma Hicks, while visiting a neighbor, accidentally fell, and was seriously injured.

Silas West, a former resident of Amador City, was buried at Oak Knoll cemetery this afternoon. The K. of P., of which order he was a member, turned out as a lodge and met the funeral procession a little ways out of town. Mr. West was an old resident of Amador City. He took a great interest in church matters, being a member of the Methodist church. He was leader of the choir here for some time, during which the church was favored with some fine singing. His daughter, Miss Emily, came up from Pacific Grove to attend the funeral.

The South Spring Hill Company's mill is temporarily idle on account of stopping the mine to repair the shaft, by replacing timbers and overhaul the engine on the surface. Supt. Tregloan says that were he properly equipped he could run forty or sixty stamps as well as only ten. The mill is also having a general fix up. The South Spring Hill is considered one of our most valuable properties and only needs a proper equipment to again make it as it has been, one of our best dividend paying properties. We certainly wish it success.

The extensive improvements that are in course of erection at the famous old Keystone mine are being carried along as fast as can be, they being retarded by an inability to get the machinery.

A pleasant Halloween party was given at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Hinkson. Invitations were issued to attend a "Witch Party," and were requested to meet at Will Taylor's store, where they would be met by an imp who would conduct them to the place where the party was to be held. On the gentlemen arriving at the house they were each given a wand on which was tied a piece of ribbon. No witches were visible, but the gentlemen were told to look in any part of the house and find a witch with the ribbon on her cap like that on his wand. The witches were heavily veiled and were unknown to their partners. In this costume light refreshments were served, after which the ladies retired and unmasked, and the wizards were asked to claim their partners, which in most cases proved disastrous. Several other games were entered into and heartily enjoyed by all. Supper was served at eleven o'clock, and an agreeable hour was spent at the table. After another hour spent in music and singing the guests retired, with many wishes that Halloween would come oftener. Among those present were: Misses Cora Wrigglesworth, Mayme Thomas, Edyth Berryman, Glendora Burns, Myrtle Bennetts, Lucy Hinkson, Madge Hinkson, and Mrs. Taylor; Messrs. J. R. Tregloan, A. Oldegarde, W. Verran, H. Verran, G. Boswell, W. H. Coleman, Will Richards, and W. J. Taylor. E. Lois.

IONE.

The ladies of the M. E. church gave another of their enjoyable socials in the lecture room of the church last Friday evening. A fine program was rendered, followed by games and refreshments.

L. C. Ladd, a former attache of the Ione Creamery, came up from Stockton last Saturday, and is spending his vacation with friends in this city.

B. V. Davis of Dixon, and his cousin, an expert buttermaker, are to take charge of the Ione Creamery on the 15th inst. Mr. Davis arrived last week and is at the Ione hotel.

Colonel Head, of the Ledger staff, was in this city on Monday, and made the Ledger correspondent a friendly call.

The members of Court Ione No. 131, F. of A., are talking of giving a minstrel play and grand ball early in January. Court Ione is noted for its fine entertainments, and all who attend these functions never regret it.

S. L. Cain arrived from the city on Sunday, where he went to see the assay of ore taken from the Cain and Cooley mine near this city.

William Templeman and family have sold out and removed to Sacramento, where the children have good positions. In their departure Ione loses one of its upright and best families.

Mrs. Winchell and her grand-daughter, Miss Winchell, of Vallejo, are the guests of Judge and Mrs. McCauley in this city.

Rumor has it that one of Ione's estimable young men is to wed one of Sacramento's fair daughters in the early spring.

The Ione Cornet Band is to hold one of their receptions at the Bridge House Saturday evening, November 9. The residents of that section will have a chance to hear some fine music of Amador county's matchless musical organization.

The Ione board of trade have taken in hand the repairing of the levee of the creek, and with W. H. Prouty as overseer the work is progressing, and a good substantial embankment is being built to keep the high waters out of town during the winter. $450 was raised by subscription to defray the expenses of the work.

J. Marchant is making a much needed improvement on his residence on East Main street, occupied by C. H. McKenny, the Amador county tailor.

Frank Frates went to the city the latter part of last week to visit his family, who reside there.

Workmen are rushing the Jacob Surface residence on East Main street to completion, and when finished Mr. Surface will possess the finest modern residence in the county.

Business men report business flourishing since this city has struck the tide of prosperity, which is caused by the people working in unison with each other, and now why not incorporate. Aquila.

PLYMOUTH.

Plymouth, Nov. 6.—A Halloween party was given at the Brown residence last week. About twenty of the little folks spent a pleasant evening at the Gerran's residence in honor of Miss Ethel's birthday.

Louie Roberts has returned from the mountains, where he has been employed during the summer.

H. E. Potter is crippled up with rheumatism.

DEFENDER.

Defender, Nov. 4.—The Defender mine is running again in full blast. The ledge has been uncovered under the dyke and sinking has begun for the 400 foot level. The quartz from the bottom of the shaft looks very encouraging, and it looks as though the Defender will have the richest shoot of ore it has yet encountered.

F. B. Joyce, superintendent of the Defender mine, went to the city last week.

G. W. Horn has struck a rich pay chute of ore in the tunnel. He is driving to tap his shaft to relieve the water.

A social dance was given at H. C. Toop's ranch last Saturday night. The crowd was small, but everybody enjoyed the fun, and loudly praises Mr. Toop as a host.

James Lunt, after an illness of several weeks, is back again on the hoist at the Defender.

Mrs. N. C. Williams and Miss Addie Phillips spent Saturday and Sunday in Ione. Yours.

A Physician Testifies.

"I have taken Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have never used anything in my life that did me the good that did," says County Physician Geo. W. Scroggs of Hall County, Ga. Baltimore, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen: — Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours.

The promenade concert and dance given by the Jackson Band in Love's hall Saturday evening was fairly attended. All who participated speak in enthusiastic terms of the entertainment. Mr. Porter of Sacramento, was in Jackson Monday, looking into the affairs of Ned Taras. It seems the absconder left him in the lurch to the tune of $130 for liquors, etc. The stock and furniture which he left, was removed on Saturday and will be sold in a day or so, the proceeds to be divided among the creditors. The Marelia building has been finally accepted as far as the builder's contract is concerned. In the face of all predictions to the contrary, contractor A. H. Eugene McPherson, who is accused of stealing a check for $43.75 from J. Hocking, at Pine Grove, and forging the name of said owner thereto, afterward cashing the check at Weil's store in Jackson, buying a bill of goods therewith, and receiving a balance in cash, was arraigned before Justice Goldner Saturday, and pleaded not guilty. His bail bond was fixed at $1000. Being unable to secure bonds, he is held in jail awaiting trial. His preliminary examination was held last Wednesday, the result being that he was held for trial before the court. Chas. H. Crocker is defendant's attorney.

The petition for calling an election in Sutter Creek to vote on the incorporation of that town will probably be presented to the supervisors for their action next month. The Record claims that all the mining superintendents, whose properties lie within the limits of the proposed city, are in favor of incorporation, with the exception of the Central Eureka—the principal bullion producer of that section. The Central Eureka wants to be left out of incorporation limits It is about half a mile from the town proper. But of course the $75,000 assessable property which it represents would make quite a difference in the revenue of the city, and hence an effort will be made to prevail upon the company to cast its lot with the proposed municipality.

Death of an old Resident.

Guiseppi Ratto, an old resident of Jackson, died Tuesday evening, after a lingering illness. For many years he worked in the mines, but for the past ten years, owing to ill health, he had been unable to follow that employment. Some years ago he was the victim of an accident in one of the mines. He leaves three children, two boys and a girl, the youngest—a boy—being nine years of age. He also has two stepsons at Mokelumne Hill. He also has two brothers, one named Ben, being a twin brother. He leaves property valued at about $2000. The funeral took place on Thursday, the remains being interred in the Catholic cemetery, and the last rites being in accordance with the formula of that church.

Killed by Fall from Horse.

John Chuma, a boy of thirteen or fourteen years of age, son of Paul Chuma, who keeps a saloon on the Calaveras side of the Mokelumne river, at the mouth of Gwin mine gulch, was thrown from a horse on Wednesday afternoon, while riding above the Gwin mine, and sustained injuries that resulted fatally the following morning. How the accident happened is unknown, as no one witnessed it. The boy was found lying in the road by a teamster. He was unconscious. Medical aid was called, but it was found that the skull had been fractured beyond the reach of surgical aid. He never regained consciousness, and died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning.

Hospital Addition Accepted.

The addition to the county hospital was formally accepted by the board of supervisors this week, and the amount due on the contract ordered paid. The delay in the acceptance of the work was owing to a misunderstanding in regard to the two doors of the insane wards. The contract called for solid oak doors. Strong, massive doors are needed for such rooms. The doors provided at first were not up to the terms of the contract. The contractor, L. Vandament, went to work and changed the doors for solid oak, thereby insuring the acceptance of the job. Taken altogether the addition is a creditable piece of work. It adds materially to the utility of the building, and the universal verdict of all who have examined is to the effect that it is well worth the price that has been paid for it.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Gritton held an inquest on October 30 at Amador City, on the body of John Casseretta, a native of Italy, aged 74 years, who was found dead the day before in his cabin near the Bunker Hill mine. The inquisition was held with the following named jurors: A. M. Allspaugh, J. B. Bastian, W. C. Carter, James Nevills, Florence Shealor, G. W. Sevey, and J. L Gregg. The only witnesses examined were Harry B. Taylor and E. Mills. It appears that the deceased lived in a cabin alone. Latterly he had been afflicted with rheumatism, but otherwise seemed to be in fair health, except that he was feeble from the infirmities incident to old age. Harry Taylor was in the habit of delivering milk at the cabin every day, the deceased almost invariably presenting a can for that purpose. On the 29th he repaired to the cabin as usual, but the looked-for can was not forthcoming. The milk boy tried to get in at the door, but found it locked. Fearing that something was wrong, he broke the window, and saw the body of deceased lying crosswise upon the bed. He did not enter, but called Mr. Mills, who entered through the window, and found that life was extinct, although the upper part of the body was still warm, showing that but two or three hours had elapsed since he breathed his last. There were no marks of violence about the body, and nothing to indicate that the aged man had come to his end from other than natural causes. The jury promptly brought in a verdict in accordance with the above facts. He left no property to speak of, and had no relatives so far as the testimony shows. The remains were interred by undertaker Roberts of Sutter Creek, in the cemetery near Amador City.

Proposed New Road.

The pros and cons on the proposed new road from Stony creek to connect with Buena Vista road, mustered in Jackson Monday, when the matter was up for action before the board of supervisors. The proposed road will add four or five miles of roadway to be taken care of at public expense. The only benefit, as we are reliably informed, will be the saving of about two miles of travel to two or three cattle men. Can Amador stand the policy of trying to provide a near outlet for every land owner in the county? The truth is, we have too many miles of road already dependent upon the county treasury. It is utterly impracticable to keep them all in passable shape. In sparsely settled districts of the eastern section of the county the creation of a new road occasionally is to be expected. But in the old-settled districts between the mineral belt and the valleys, the mileage of public roadway ought to have pretty well reached its limit ere this. This new road along Stony creek will involve building between four and five miles of fencing, to say nothing of the cost of the land.

A Dog Gone Case.

Considerable talk is being indulged over the case of a lost dog, which is the subject of litigation in the justice court of Jackson.

On the 31st of October constable Kay brought over from Sutter Creek a dog, in obedience to a replevin suit instituted by Matt Thomas against N. Barnardis. The dog is alleged in the complaint to be of the value of $50—a valuable hunting animal—and is described as a black and white spotted dog, named Sport, with red head, weight about 50 lbs., of hound breed, Matt Thomas, the owner, left the canine with Geo. Thomas some time ago for safe keeping. Geo. Thomas turned him over to John Juka. The dog got away from Juka, and subsequently came into the possession of a man by the name of Ebby, of Sutter Creek, who gave him to Mr. Bernardis. When Matt Thomas returned to town and discovered the whereabouts of his dog, he made demand on Bernardis, who refused to surrender possession. Thomas immediately sought the assistance of a lawyer and filed a bond of $100, with G. D. Calvin and C. B. Arditto as sureties, and after the legal requirements were complied with, the constable restored the dog to its owner. Justice Goldner was in doubt about the dog being of any value, but the lawyer straightened him out on that legal proposition, and he signed the necessary papers. John Juka now threatens to bring suit for the recovery of the dog, and a legal contest involving the ownership of the dog may result.

Lecture on Ireland.

An entertaining lecture was delivered in the Pine Grove Methodist church last Saturday evening, by the Rev. Geo. W. Beattie, the newly appointed Methodist pastor of that church. His subject was "Paddy at Home," giving sketches of Irish life and character. The lecture was humorous throughout and very instructive, and was greatly appreciated by every one present.

You Know What You Are Taking

When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No Cure, No Pay. 50c.

Mining Notes.

BUENA VISTA COPPER.—L. P. Haney, the energetic secretary of this company, has been working in Calaveras county lately, disposing of stock in this property. He has sold a large block of stock. We understand that a 15-horse power engine has been purchased, and active operations are to commence about the middle of this month. Clearing out the shaft will be the first work in order. The mine is located near Buena Vista, in Jackson valley. The development of a paying mine at this point would give a great impetus to that section.

IRON ORE.—We were shown this week by J. H. Langhorst, a piece of iron ore discovered on the Boone ranch near Stony creek, about five miles southwest of Jackson. It is very heavy, and undoubtedly carries a large percentage of mineral. It is of black color, and similar in character with other iron caps found on the surface in that neighborhood. We understand that iron caps of this nature often conceal valuable copper deposits. Although some of the surface rock from these croppings have been assayed, and found to contain only traces of copper, still this is said by experts to be no certain test of the value of the underlying deposits. Mr. Langhorst also had a piece of crome iron ore from a deposit in the neighborhood of Lancha Plana. Assays made years ago proved it to be of low grade; too low to pay for working. It is freely streaked with greenish stains, indicating the presence of copper. This ore was also taken from near the surface.

Modern Surgery Surpassed.

"While suffering from a bad case of piles I consulted a physician who advised me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve," says G. F. Carter, Atlanta, Ga. "I procured a box and was entirely cured. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a splendid cure for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." Surgery is unnecessary to cure piles. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure any case. Cuts, burns, bruises and all other wounds are also quickly cured by it. Beware of counterfeits. Kerr's Pharmacy, Jackson.

WRITE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. Wells, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-sized bottle.

Rev. Dr Morris Wechsler,
Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel.
NEW YORK, Jan. 3, 1901.

DRS. TAFT BROS'. MEDICINE CO.,
Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alloviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful. After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours,
REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

Dr. Taft Bros. Medicine Co. Avon Springs, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1901.
Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.
Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Feb. 5, 1901.
Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full-size bottle, and I am ever grateful. I have a family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit.

WORKING IN PUBLIC.

Show Window Artisans Can Command Good Remuneration.

A Broadway shoe manufacturer was asked what method of advertising he found most profitable.

"Placing my men near the window," he said, "so they can work in view of the public. I don't know of anything that catches the attention of the passer-by more quickly than the sight of a demonstrator sitting close to the window running a machine for dear life.

"Manufacturers of all kinds of goods have adopted this plan. Waistmakers put their most skilled workers on exhibition to show how the finest garments are cut and sewed. Cigar manufacturers take the public into their confidence and let them see the process of rolling as performed by the cleverest hands. Men who deal in mechanical contrivances have found that it pays to have at least one machine set up near a window so the crowd outside may observe the intricacy of its parts and the rapidity of its action. Jewelers have stationed their most expert lapidaries within view of the street that possible customers may see how precious stones are cut and polished and set.

"It isn't everybody who can work in public. It takes a person with good strong nerves and concentration of thought to do difficult work in a show window. I have men in my employ who are excellent workers, but they get flustered when subjected to unusual surveillance and ruin everything they put their hands to. I have tried some of them as window operators, but they can't get used to it.

"A man who can run a machine at full tilt or paint a picture or fry pancakes or iron a shirt in the full gaze of the public eye and not lose his head is an artist and worth several dollars more a week to his employer than the more modest individual. And he gets it too."—New York Sun.

MEN'S VIEW OF WOMEN.

Earth has nothing more tender than a pious woman's heart.—Luther.

Remember, woman is most perfect when most womanly.—Gladstone.

Lovely woman that caused our cares can every care beguile.—Beresford.

He that would have fine guests let him have a fine woman.—Ben Jonson.

A woman's strength is most potent when robed in gentleness.—Lamartine.

Disguise our bondage as we will, 'tis woman, woman, rules us still.—Moore.

Oil and water, woman and a secret, are hostile properties.—Bulwer Lytton.

Women need not look at those dear to them to know their moods.—Howells.

Kindness in woman, not their beauteous looks, shall win my love.—Shakespeare.

Raptured man quits each dozing sage, O woman, for thy lovelier page!—Moore.

He is a fool who thinks by force or skill to turn the current of a woman's will.—Samuel Tuke.

The most beautiful object in the world, it will be allowed, is a beautiful woman.—Macaulay.

If the heart of a man is depressed with cares, the mist is dispelled when a woman appears.—Gay.

Taking Sunday Collections.

An old and not yet obsolete mode of taking a collection in a Scotch church is by means of a ladle—a small wooden box at the end of a straight wooden shaft about four and a half feet long, the top of the box being sufficiently open to receive contributions of money. For all special collections this was the usual mode in the chief churches of Edinburgh when I was a boy at school there 50 years ago, but it has gradually gone out of fashion and is not often to be seen nowadays.

For ordinary Sunday collections the general custom has been to have a metal plate or basin on a small table at the church entrance superintended by an elder—a mode which was often called the brod. When ladles are used, they are handed round the congregation by elders after the sermon or after the last psalm, and the common Scotch phrase to "lift" the collection may have come from this custom.—Notes and Queries.

Some Queer Verdicts.

What is "a reasonable state of intoxication" apparently just missed precise definition by a coroner's jury in Mississippi which stated in its verdict that "we, the jury, find that deceased came to his death by a stroke of an east bound train, No. 204, on I. C. Railroad, at Fentress, Miss., in Choctaw county, he being in a reasonable state of intoxication."

A somewhat similar indefiniteness of legal conclusion mars a verdict of a neighboring Georgia jury to the effect that "we, the jury, find the defendant almost guilty."

Equally as uncertain and ambiguous as these statements by laymen is the opinion in an early Maryland case which "acknowledges the corn" by saying that an occurrence referred to took place "at a former sitting when the court was full."

Too Liberal.

Wife—Here's an advertisement in the paper that you'd better look into. It says a man is wanted, and he won't be worked to death, and he'll get paid enough to live on.

Husband—Says he won't be worked to death, eh?

Wife—Yes; and they promise pay enough to live on.

Husband—Some catch about that!—Pick-Me-Up.

Mary's Fractious Sister.

"I suppose your baby sister cries some?" asked one of the neighbors. "Cries!" said Mary. "Why, she just seems to look on the dark side of things all the time!"—Youth's Companion.

Reliable and Gentle.

"A pill's a pill," says the saw. But there are pills and pills. You want a pill which is certain, thorough and gentle. Musn't gripe. DeWitt's Little Early Risers fill the bill. Purely vegetable. Do not force but assist the bowels to act. Strengthen and invigorate. Small and easy to take. Kerr's Pharmacy, Jackson.

HOUSEWORK

Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Deranged menses, leucorrhœa and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI

is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. It cured Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendeane, Ky., Feb. 10, 1901.
I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting fleshier than I ever was before, and sleep good and eat hearty. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day. MRS. RICHARD JONES.

Won by His Wit.

A story is told of an English clergyman who owed his appointment to a rich living to a lucky pun. He was tutor to the son of a nobleman and had not long taken orders when he attended the funeral of the rector of the parish in which the nobleman's seat was situated.

The father of his pupil was patron of the living and was also present at the funeral of the deceased rector. There was a young clergyman present also whose grief was so demonstrative that the noble patron was much affected by the sight and asked if the young man was a son of the deceased gentleman.

"Oh, dear, no, my lord—no relation at all," said the tutor.

"No relation!" exclaimed the nobleman in a surprised tone.

"None, my lord; he is the curate, and I think he is not weeping for the dead, but for the living."

His lordship, who was something of a wit and a cynic himself, was so delighted with the bonmot that he conferred the living upon the ready punster.

How They Do In China.

In China liquids are sold by weight and grain by measure. John buys soup by the pound and cloth by the foot. A Chinaman never puts his name outside of his shop, but paints instead a motto or a list of his goods on his vertical signboard. Some reassuring remark is frequently added, such as "One word hall," "A child two feet high would not be cheated." Every single article has to be bargained for, and it is usual for the customer to take his own measure and scales with him.

When you engage a servant or make a bargain, it is not considered binding until "the fastening penny" has been paid. Although his bad faith is notorious in some matters, yet, to do him justice, when once this coin has been paid by you he Chinaman, cooly or shopman will generally stick to his bargain even if the result to him be loss.

Cigars Are Rights and Lefts.

"It is not always because a cigar is badly made that the wrapper curls up and works off," said a tobacco dealer. "It is often because a right handed man is smoking a left handed cigar. Sounds strange, hey? Well, a left handed cigar is one rolled by the maker's left hand, for all cigar makers must be ambidexterous. A piece of tobacco for a wrapper is cut on the bias and is rolled from left to right on the filler. The other piece, for reasons of economy, is then used and must be rolled the opposite way by the operator's other hand. Hence a smoker who holds his cigar in his right hand sometimes in twisting it about rubs the wrapper the wrong way and unloosens it."—Philadelphia Times.

A Little Too Faithful.

A thief in Paris, being chased by the police, threw away during his flight the purse he had stolen and was in a fair way, after being taken to the police station, of being allowed to go free for lack of sufficient evidence to hold him when his faithful dog, which he had trained to fetch and carry, trotted into the station, wagging its tail, with the missing purse in its mouth.—Paris Journal.

The Gentleman's Psalm.

A reader of the Scriptures emphasizes the Fifteenth Psalm as the gentleman's psalm because it describes as among the many who are entitled to be considered as gentlemen "one who leadeth an incorrupt life, speaketh truth from his heart, doeth no evil to his neighbor, is lowly in his own eyes, keepeth his word even if it be to his own hindrance."

Not Alike.

The Professor—Don't use that phrase, my dear. It is grossly unscientific.

His Wife—What phrase? "As much alike as two peas?"

The Professor—Yes. Examined under the microscope, two peas will present startling differences.—Puck.
